New Electric Railway Scheme.

The Pittsfield Journal publishes a scheme for building an electric railway from that city to Northampton. Its proposed franchise is to cover the towns of Williamsburg, Goshen, Chesterfield, Worthington and Cummington, and thence through Windsor, Peru, Hinsdale and Dalton to Pittsfield:

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

From Northampton to Amherst.

The directors of the Northampton and Amherst street railway company have practically decided to begin the work of building a line to Hatfield this fall, if a franchise is given them.
